

Compliance, Risk & Oversight Officer

About Carbonplace

An exciting opportunity to rapidly scale and shape a start-up committed to driving climate action. Carbonplace is a global carbon credit transaction network that will enable the simple, secure, and transparent transfer of certified carbon credits. Developed by a group of financial institutions, Carbonplace's unique blockchain-enabled distributed ledger technology will enable the trust, transparency, and accessibility required to open the voluntary carbon market to the world and accelerate global climate action. In joining this new & unique venture, you will engage with teams that have a startup mindset without the worry of associated start up risks. You will be working with a consortium of financial institutions with a core objective of executing MVP and Series A funding.

About This Role:

Carbonplace are seeking a highly collaborative and analytical Compliance, Risk and Oversight Officer to join the team. We are looking for individuals with the ability to build the foundations of Carbonplace's risk management, compliance and governance framework. Effectively identifying and managing all risks which might prevent Carbonplace from achieving its objectives and puts in place the necessary arrangements to manage and mitigate its risks. You will be pro-active and have excellent communication and reasoning skills.

Responsibilities:

- Develop a risk management, compliance and governance framework; including the design, preparation, implementation, and monitoring of policies and procedures
- Be able to contextualise risk issues in a business environment to balance business objectives with risk
- Provide management with expert advice on the identification and assessment of business risks, and the design and construction of control and mitigation strategies.
- Use excellent interpersonal skills to engage with colleagues and raise awareness of their risk management responsibilities
- Prepare management information reports and presentations
- Stay abreast of market developments in the sustainability and emerging technology domains

Location and Commitments:

We offer hybrid working, with a minimum of 2-3 days a week in the City of London office.

Candidate Requirements:

- 3+ Years Risk Management and Governance Experience
- Understanding of risk management frameworks, specifically operational risk methodologies
- Able to constructively challenge at all levels
- Proactive and comfortable engaging senior level management to key risks and concerns.
- You take a collaborative approach and have excellent interpersonal and communication skills.
- You have the ability to manage multiple priorities successfully and are able to make effective/informed decisions under pressure.
- Candidate must demonstrate incredible attention to detail.

Important information:

- A degree or equivalent professional qualifications are preferred, although not required.
- We are hoping for someone who can join Carbonplace promptly, commencing in this role from Q4 2022.

Remuneration & Benefits:

Competitive based on experience.

